Sub Lovers Unite! Discover Fort Myersʔ̥ Top 4 Sandwich Spots Today!

Discover Naples&#039; vibrant sub shop scene, featuring unique eats from Mario&#039;s, Neapolitan Gourmet, and more in this June 2025 update.

Naples, Florida, USA - In the vibrant world of sandwiches, few places rival the rich offerings found across the Fort Myers area. With the arrival of new venues and beloved staples, food lovers have plenty to look forward to. According to The News-Press, the latest culinary gem is Tap 42 Craft Kitchen & Bar, which has rolled out its doors in Bell Tower. Spanning a vast 10,000 square feet and rising two stories, this venue combines contemporary American cuisine with expertly crafted cocktails, all in an upscale atmosphere. Definitely a spot to add to your go-to list!

While Tap 42 garners attention, the nearby sandwich shops continue to hold their own, each offering a unique twist on the classic sub sandwich. Four establishments stand out and are worth exploring. After all, one could say there¸s something special about finding the perfect sub that hits the spot!

Local Favorites

First on the list is Mario¸s, a local institution that¸s been feeding Fort Myers for 35 years. Known for its delicious chicken parm and pastrami-anchored New Yorker subs, you can find Mario¸s at 12326 S. Cleveland Ave. If you haven¸t tried their offerings, you simply haven¸t explored the local food scene.

Next up is Neapolitan Gourmet, located in both Naples and Bonita Springs, delighting patrons with enormous subs, loaded with thinly sliced deli meats. On a good day, they serve around 200 signature Italian subs! It¸s no wonder that Neapolitan Gourmet is a must-visit with addresses at 5415 Airport-Pulling Road and 28100 Imperial Parkway.

If you¸re looking for something with a German twist, The Rustic in Cape Coral should be your destination. Run by the talented Dennis Friedmann, this deli crafts homemade subs using NY-NJ Par Baked Breads and is especially loved for its meatballs and tuna. Head to 2924 Del Prado Blvd. S., Unit 5, to dig in.

Last but certainly not least is Stan¸s Super Subs, a long-standing fixture in Bonita Springs, known for its freshly sliced corned beef and turkey subs layered generously with Swiss cheese. A visit to 26880 Old 41 Road will leave your taste buds singing!
